Unless otherwise noted in the object catalog record, the State of Louisiana (state property) or the U.S. Army (federal property) assumes (but does not guarantee) to hold all the non-public domain copy and intellectual rights to the contents of the collection. The LANG Museum Activity staff provides as much information as possible regarding the restrictions on each image but the user must assume full responsibility for conforming to the copyright laws and for securing use permissions. In authorizing the publication or use of a photographic copy, the LANG Museum Activity does not surrender its own right to publish or to grant permission to others to do so.

Verbal permission for the use of the collection, or imagery of the collection, is granted by the Museum Staff (barring any copyright or other agreement restriction) for the purpose of personal use, scholarly research, and non-profit activities. All other use must obtain written permission granted by the Museum Director. Permission is granted for one-time use only; any subsequent use requires additional written permission.

Digital images may be made by the user or provided by the Museum Staff at the user's expense. Digital images may not be enhanced by computer digital imaging or otherwise altered or modified in any way without written permission. Images may not be used for websites, resale, fund raising or any commercial activity without written permission. The user may not permit others to reproduce the photographic copy or its facsimile.

Images or actual archival material are credited as follows: "Courtesy Louisiana National Guard Archives" (for state property) or "Courtesy U.S. Army Museum" (for federal property) followed by the photographer or artist if known.

Images or actual museum objects are credited as follows: "Courtesy Jackson Barracks Museum, Louisiana National Guard" or "Courtesy Louisiana Maneuvers and Military Museum, Louisiana National Guard" (for state property) or "Courtesy U.S. Army Museum" (for federal property) followed by the photographer or artist if known.

Objects on loan will be credited per the terms of the loan agreement.

One complimentary copy of any book, article, or other published material in which the Museum Activity's images are used shall be donated to the LANG Jackson Barracks Museum Library.
